I will keep this very brief because I'm sure you have more than enough correspondence detailing what I am going to say and I don't think I could put it any better than the rest of them. So the bottom line is that I (as well as the rest of my immediate family, 3 registered voters all together) feel that the Microsoft Corp. should suffer harsher penalties than the ones proposed by the Justice Department. That is all I wanted to convey. Thank you.
